

Our Children's Future: Child Care Policy in Canada

Table of Contents

List of Contributors

Acknowledgements

Introduction Gordon Cleveland and Michael Krashinsky

Chapter 1 - Child Care and the Social Union: Who Should Do What?

Introduction

Child Care and Canadian Federalism in the 1990s: Canary in a Coal Mine

Martha Friendly

The Politics of Child Care in Canada: Provincial and Federal

Governments

Bob Rae

The Federal Imperative

Tom Kent

Child Care and the Social Union Framework Agreement: Lament or Leverage?

Alfred MacLeod

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Chapter 2 - What the Rest of Canada Can Learn From Quebec and From Other Countries

Introduction

What We Can Learn From the Quebec Experience

Jocelyne Tougas

Getting Good Childcare for Families: What Canada Can Learn from Other Countries?

Helen Penn

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Chapter 3 - What is Good Quality Child Care and How Do We Get It?

Introduction

Moving Towards Achieving Quality Child Care

Gillian Doherty

Training, Quality and the Lived Experience of Child Care

Hillel Goelman

Comments on Child Care Quality

Ellen Vineberg Jacobs

June Pollard, Judy Bernhard and Pat Corson

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Chapter 4 - How Will Good Child Care Services Be Delivered: Education

System or Community Services?

Introduction

Education and Child Care: Confronting New Realities

Penny Milton

The Case for Community-governed Child Care Services

Susan Prentice

Comments on the Delivery of Child Care

Julie Mathien

Jane Beach

Afterword

Penny Milton

Afterword

Rita Chudnovsky

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Chapter 5 - What Family Policies Are Needed to Complement Universal

Child Care?

Introduction

Family Policies And Families' Well-being: an International Comparison

Anne H. Gauthier

Child Care Policy and Family Policy: Cross-National Examples of Integration and Inconsistency

Maureen Baker

Comments on Family Policies and Child Care

Kathy O'Hara

Shelley Phipps

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Chapter 6 - Single Parents, Child Poverty, Children at Risk: What Special Child Care Policies are Needed?

Introduction

What Special Arrangements Are Necessary For Lone Parent
Families in a Universal Child Care Program?

Gordon Cleveland and Michael Krashinsky

Investments in Comprehensive Programming: Services for Children and Single Parent Mothers on Welfare Pay for Themselves Within One Year

Gina Browne, Joanne Roulston, Bonnie Ewart, Michael Schuster,

Joey Edwardh, Louise Boily

Comments on Single Parents, Child Poverty, Children at Risk

Richard Budgell

Donna S. Lero

Michael Goldberg

Afterword

Gordon Cleveland and Michael Krashinsky

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Chapter 7 - Child Care Workers: What Qualifications, Pay, and Organizations Should They Have?

Introduction

Working with Young Children

Jane Bertrand

Thoughts on Child Care Workers

Annette LaGrange

Comments on Child Care Workers

Douglas Hyatt

Marta Juorio

Afterword

Jane Bertrand

Summary of Floor Discussion

References

Conclusions

Gordon Cleveland and Michael Krashinsky